

The Pigs' Home Brew:

13 Aussie Classics are reborn into The Pigs' twisted world of bluegrass & folk.

Unashamed bluegrass sinners, The Pigs, reinterpret a formidable collection of Australian pop songs on their new album, The Pigs' Home Brew: 13 Aussie Classics.

Powderfinger's My Happiness is remade as a country waltz, Farnham's You're The Voice gets a wild yodeling makeover, Olivia Newton John's Physical is performed with unnatural desperation and INXS's Devil Inside has a whole lot more devil inside it. The first single from the album is You Just Like Me Cos I'm Good In Bed, featuring Red Symons on pedal steel guitar and accordion.

The Pigs have transformed the Skyhooks classic into a country duet, à la Johnny Cash and June Carter, with T-Bone Pig and alt-country songstress Fanny Lumsden sharing the vocals. Another special guest, Josh Abrahams, joins The Pigs for a foot-stomping acoustic version of his hit song, Addicted To Bass.

The Pigs have taken a different approach to recording this album, seeking to capture the energy of a live performance. "We didn't want to split into different rooms and wear headphones," says Stretch Pig "we just wanted the record to sound like people playing music in a room together. So we went to a cottage in the bush, set up some microphones and had some fun playing the songs." Every song was captured on multi-camera video.

In a career spanning 10 years, 4 albums, 1 EP, concerts all over Australia and the world, countless TV and radio appearances, squillions of beautiful fans and 4 very painful blisters - The Pigs have built a reputation for dismantling international megahit songs and rebuilding them in their signature style. Now, at the peak of their interpretive powers, they turn their hillbilly tractor beams towards home. "We're celebrating the songs that we love and the songs we grew up with," says T- Bone Pig, "from Cold Chisel to The Avalanches."

The Pigs' Home Brew: 13 Aussie Classics will be released on February 6th, distributed by Green Media/MGM.
