Live Music by Niamh Watson

A young emerging pop and rock artist, Niamh Watson has been singing and creating music all of her life and is fast becoming a regular on the Central Coast live music scene.

With her very distinctive lyrical and vocal styling, Niamh finds that songwriting helps her to explore ways to express herself and her personal experiences.

Guest Speaker Jayde Balderstone of The Grey Consulting

Jayde Balderston is a Sydney businesswoman with more than 14 years' experience in the Public Relations industry.

Jayde's personal story, of how she launched her own successful PR and Communications agency in a highly competitive market, without any independent financial backing, all the while battling with an extraordinary array of devastating health problems, can only be described as genuinely inspirational.
